

Announcement for Educators, Grades K-12 and College Faculty

Free and Open to the Public

Funding provided by a grant from The Beatrice Fox Auerbach Foundation Advisory Fund of the Endowment Foundation of the Jewish Federation of Greater Hartford, Inc.

Richard Stockton College of New Jersey
Holocaust Resource Center & The Master of Arts in Holocaust and Genocide Studies

Present

Professor Yehuda Bauer

“Daring to Resist: Jewish Resistance during the Holocaust”

Jewish resistance during the Holocaust underscores the determination and efforts of Jewish resisters to preserve their everyday lives, culture, and religion.

Professor Bauer’s presentation will highlight the award winning film Daring to Resist about Jewish resistance during the Holocaust. Each educator will receive a copy of the video Daring to Resist with the teacher’s guide. Yehuda Bauer will enrich his lecture with stories based upon his research about Jews who fought against the Nazi Regime through spiritual and physical resistance.

Date: Tuesday, October 23, 2007

Time: 4:00– 6:00 PM—Seating on a first come, first served basis.

Place: Richard Stockton College

Performing Arts Center (PAC) – Use Parking Lots 4 and 5

PDH: 2.0 Professional Development Hours

Cost: Free and open to the public. No registration or tickets required.

Questions: gail.rosenthal@stockton.edu or 609 652 4699

Presenter:

Dr. Yehuda Bauer, of Yad Vashem: The Holocaust Martyrs' and Heroes' Remembrance Authority, in Jerusalem, Israel, is recognized as one of the world’s leading authorities on the Holocaust and a recipient of the esteemed Israel Prize in 1998.

Please join us for this special presentation. All are welcome!