

Class of 2024

Welcome to Stockton University!

School of Social and Behavioral Sciences (SOBL)

Home to six majors, four interdisciplinary minors and four program minors, as well as three graduate programs, the School of Social and Behavioral Sciences (SOBL) offers students many exciting opportunities to learn about human behavior. All of our programs offer optional areas of concentration, internships, service learning, independent study and undergraduate research experiences.

Our outstanding faculty will guide you through a curriculum designed to enhance your understanding of human behavior, helping you better understand yourself and others, both as individuals and within social groups. The valuable insights and skills you gain will serve you well, regardless of your chosen career path. For more information, check out our website:
