JIM WHELAN BOARDWALK HALL
ATLANTIC CITY

*“To laugh often and much;
To win the respect
of intelligent people
and the affection of children;
to earn the appreciation of honest critics and endure
the betrayal of false friends;
to appreciate beauty,
to find the best in others;
to leave the world a little better;
whether by a healthy child,
a garden patch or a redeemed social condition;
to know even one life has breathed easier because you have lived.
This is the meaning of success.”*

– Ralph Waldo Emerson

Hello, Class of 2024!

Celebrating my first commencement as Stockton's president fills me with pride and gratitude. I'm grateful to be leading the very institution where my mother earned her degree as an adult student. Though I've only been able to spend this past year with you, you have all made an impact on me.

In just this year, you've proven to be resilient, entrepreneurial, trailblazing, inclusive and outspoken. Your commitment to community engagement and social justice, and your willingness to speak your mind and stand up for what's right have impressed me. I know these qualities will carry you far as you prepare for what's next.

You've triumphed over obstacles, persevered through 'unprecedented' times and kept pushing to meet your goals. Along the way, you've made new friends, connected with faculty and staff and forged relationships that will serve you for years to come.

As you walk away with your diploma, remember what you've learned here at Stockton. Not just the formulas, research and clinical skills, but how to problem solve, communicate effectively and listen to your conscience. Continue to build the relationships that strengthen our community of opportunity.

While your degree may be complete, your time at Stockton is just beginning. As the newest members of our alumni community, you have the opportunity to give back, mentor current students, and share your Stockton experiences. Visit often and let us know what you're up to – you never know how your story may inspire or help another Osprey.

I can't wait to see where you soar next, and I know you'll continue to make us all proud.

Go Ospreys!

Joe Bertolino

Earning a B.S. in Psychology with a minor in Behavioral Neuroscience, she has honed a diverse skill set that includes electroencephalogram (EEG) laboratory research, interning at the Sara & Sam Schoffer Holocaust Resource Center, and being a docent for a United Nations history exhibit. Throughout Maya's academic endeavors, she has demonstrated a steadfast dedication to driving positive change whether through presenting novel findings at neuroscience conferences or leading student tours and discussion groups through the Holocaust Resource Center. As Maya embarks on the next chapter of her life, she hopes to continue her education and eventually receive her doctorate in psychology, eager to make a lasting impact and inspire others to reach their fullest potential.

Elizabeth Myers | 2:30 p.m.

Elizabeth Myers graduated from Stockton University in the Fall of 2023 with a B.A. in Literature. Her literary scholarship focused on 19th century British literature, contemporary queer American literature, and feminist theory, for which she was awarded the 2022 Feyt/Armstrong Award for Best Long Critical Essay, as well as the 2023 Betsey Stockton Award for Writing and Activism in Women's, Gender, and Sexuality Studies. Outside of the classroom, she served as secretary of Stockton Literature Club and editor-in-chief of both Stockpot Literary Magazine and The Argo Newspaper, worked as a university writing tutor, represented the Stockton at the NJWGSC Annual Undergraduate Research Colloquium, appeared as a press panelist for the 2023 NJ District 2 Senate Debates, and was named a Board of Trustees Distinguished Fellow. Elizabeth has returned to Stockton as a Stephen Dunn Reading Series panelist and has her sights set on a career in literary studies in higher education.

KEYNOTE SPEAKERS

Dave Sholler, '06

As Chief Communications Officer for the Philadelphia 76ers and Harris Blitzer Sports & Entertainment (HBSE), Dave Sholler works closely with players, coaches, executives and ownership to design and implement communications strategies to elevate both the 76ers and HBSE brands.

He leads and orchestrates major announcements including new player signings and trades, news conferences and media tours, global brand campaigns, and the acquisitions of new properties.

Sholler has driven communications strategies for ownership investments in the Washington Commanders of the National Football League, Cleveland Guardians of Major League Baseball, Real Salt Lake of Major League Soccer, and Joe Gibbs Racing of NASCAR, as well as the acquisitions of Cooperstown All-Star Village and Ripken Baseball. In January, Forbes ranked HBSE as one of the world's five most valuable sports empires.

Prior to joining the 76ers, he served as Vice President of Public Relations, Athlete Marketing and Development for the Ultimate Fighting Championship. While at UFC from 2008-2016, Sholler helped amplify the UFC's global profile, while also supporting the brand growth and development of stars such as Conor McGregor and Ronda Rousey. Sholler developed and implemented communications and brand-building strategies for nearly 600 athletes worldwide, while managing public relations plans for historic, record-setting UFC pay-per-view and televised events. He was also a key member of the team responsible for the ideation, development and eventual execution of UFC Performance Institute, the world's leading training center for combat sports athletes. In 2016, Sholler coordinated communications for UFC's record-breaking $4 billion sale to Endeavor.

Sholler was a 2015 inductee into the New Jersey Martial Arts Hall of Fame for his contributions to mixed martial arts and has been named to Top 40 Under 40 lists of Atlantic City Weekly and Philadelphia Business Journal.

A 2006 Stockton University graduate, Sholler resides in South Jersey with his wife, Tiffany, and their three children. His family proudly supports the Atlantic City Rescue Mission, where he has worked in an advisory capacity, as well as the Sixers Youth Foundation and Covenant House New Jersey. Sholler is also active in youth sports, coaching basketball and soccer.

PRESIDENTIAL MEDAL OF DISTINCTION

Academic Honors

Academic Honors listed for Spring 2024 undergraduate candidates' cumulative grade point averages, are calculated through Fall 2023, and indicate their potential eligibility for honors. After final averages for the Spring 2024 candidates are calculated, honors will be noted on the student's record. Stockton University Stockton University was founded in 1969 as Richard Stockton State College, a public four-year college within the New Jersey system of higher education. A residential institution with students drawn from across the state, Stockton is located at the edge of the New Jersey Pinelands, 12 miles northwest of Atlantic City and 50 miles southeast of Philadelphia. The largest campus in New Jersey, Stockton's award-winning buildings are set within 1,600+ acres of forest, streams, and lakes.

The University first offered instruction in 1971 and currently offers distinctive baccalaureate programs in liberal arts, professional studies, and general education as well as master's and doctoral degree programs designed to stimulate and challenge students intellectually. Stockton is strongly committed to preparing graduates for careers and advanced education, a commitment that encompasses helping students acquire interest in lifelong learning and in contributing to society.

Stockton's faculty members have gained a national reputation for their teaching, accessibility, and scholarship. In addition, faculty members actively mentor students, involving them in original research, hands-on learning, and community engagement. Through academic and co-curricular programming, faculty members guide undergraduate and graduate students to develop their independent and critical thinking skills both inside and outside the classroom.

Stockton University Foundation

The Stockton University Foundation, a non-profit organization founded to support innovative University programs, provides the means for individuals, organizations, and corporations to make gifts, grants, and bequests to the University. This private support enables the University to finance programs not typically funded through State appropriations.

Gifts donated to the Foundation support student scholarships, faculty and student research fellowships, improvements to equipment and facilities, and enrichment of student services and cultural programs. These offerings enhance the University's excellent record recruiting dedicated faculty, retaining students, and engaging friends.

The Chair of the Foundation's Board of Directors is Dr. Brigid Callahan Harrison '88. For further information on the Stockton University Foundation, contact Daniel Nugent, Vice President for University Advancement and Executive Director of the University Foundation, at Daniel.Nugent@stockton.edu.

Academic Honors

As part of a comprehensive educational effort to promote and recognize outstanding academic achievement, Stockton University grants baccalaureate degrees with the designations cum laude, magna cum laude, summa cum laude to qualified graduating students. Those graduates who have achieved academic honors wear a cord around the neck: a gold cord designates summa cum laude, a silver cord designates magna cum laude, and a white cord designates cum laude.

Honors

Students awarded the degree cum laude, magna cum laude, or summa cum laude achieve the following eligibility requirements in addition to those needed for a degree. All courses attempted at Stockton are included in the calculations for academic honors, except courses taken as Pass/No Credit. Students must satisfactorily complete at least 64 credits at Stockton prior to graduation in order to qualify for honor's designation.

Students graduate under the policies in effect at the time of their graduation rather than at the time of their initial matriculation. Currently, to receive summa cum laude designation, students must achieve a cumulative grade point average of 3.950-4.000; to receive magna cum laude designation, students must achieve a cumulative GPA of 3.850-3.949; and to receive cum laude designation, students must achieve a cumulative GPA of 3.750-3.849. The calculation of GPA is taken to three decimal places.

Academic Regalia

Academic garb dates back to medieval times, when heavy gowns, hoods, and caps were worn by students to protect them against the cold, dank, and drafty corridors of their universities. In the Middle Ages, Europeans wore clothing of distinctive colors to indicate their status or profession. It was only natural, therefore, that when monks and students began to don distinctive costume for bachelor's (apprentices), master's (teachers), and doctor's (teachers who completed postgraduate study) degrees, the most conspicuous distinctions appeared on the hood.

The academic gowns of the past have been replaced by gowns made of lighter fabric, as students no longer wear them to keep warm and since most commencement ceremonies today take place in the late spring and early summer. Typically, commencement gowns are black, although some institutions have adopted gowns in school colors.

The bachelor's gown, comparatively simple in design, usually has no adornment other than its characteristic long, pointed sleeves. The master's gown has oblong sleeves, which are open at the wrist. The doctor's gown differs from the bachelor's and master's gowns because it sports velvet panels down the front and around the neck and three velvet bands across round, open sleeves.

The bachelor's and master's caps are traditional mortarboard while some doctor's degree caps are a soft, large beret. The tassel, which is usually black for bachelor's and master's degrees, occasionally comes in a color representing the student's field of study and may be gold for doctors and presidents. Prior to conferral of a degree, the tassel falls to the right; upon conferral, students switch the tassel ceremoniously to the left.

The hood, as the most distinctive and symbolic piece of the academic costume, indicates the level of the degree, the field of study, and the institution conferring the degree. The length of the hood denotes the degree; bachelor's hoods are three feet, master's three and a half feet, and doctor's four feet long. There are also similar variations in the length of the velvet trimming. This trimming denotes the field of study for which the degree was awarded. The lining of the hood represents the color or colors of the institution conferring the degree. Some of the colors of the trimming are as follows:

Arts, Letters, Humanities, White	Occupational Therapy, Slate Blue
Accountancy, Business, Commerce, Drab	Optometry, Sea Foam Green
Agriculture, Maize	Oratory (Speech), Silver Gray

Mace

The origins of the ceremonial mace can be traced to the Middle Ages when knights wielded maces as weapons. As knighthood became obsolete, the mace became symbolic of power. It is now a traditional symbol of authority in churches, government, and universities.

Ned Gerber, Port Republic woodcarver who served on Stockton's founding committee, carved the mace carried by the Faculty Grand Marshal at Stockton graduation ceremonies. The three-foot shaft of the Stockton mace is crafted from walnut and holly, woods indigenous to southern New Jersey. The walnut is from a century-old tree hewn by Tom Lang, a retired member of the Stockton staff. Pewter, the metal employed in Stockton's mace, was a popular and practical metal in New Jersey during colonial times.

Stockton's mace is crowned with the flame of knowledge and carved in holly to denote mission. At the foot is a carved acorn, which indicates growth. Below the flame of knowledge is a triad of Stockton's former logo, a symbol of two trees, denoting environmental concern. Linked edge-to-edge and inlaid with holly, this symbol represents the three populations comprising the University community: students, faculty, and staff. The Great Seal of New Jersey, cast in pewter, signifies Stockton's aegis and sponsorship. A fluted section of walnut below the seal suggests the academic curriculum and the self-discipline necessary for each student to achieve a degree. Below that is a pewter cylinder engraved with the names of the first three Presidents of Stockton University. Finally, an engraved pewter nameplate identifies "Richard Stockton State College founded 1969."
