

MASTER OF ARTS IN HOLOCAUST & GENOCIDE STUDIES

Program Highlights

- Committed to teaching, research and community outreach on the Holocaust and other genocides, modern mass atrocities and the struggle to stop and prevent them
- Committed to student learning and success through rigorous, 35-credit coursework, internships, close faculty interaction and guidance and other professional development opportunities
- A multidisciplinary program with dynamic faculty members from History, Communication Studies, Political Science, Criminal Justice and Education
- Scholarships and graduate assistantships available to support students
- An annual program of lectures, panel discussions and workshops bringing scholars and activists from around the world to Stockton to discuss their work in the field
- Direct Entry available for Stockton undergraduates

Admissions Criteria

- Baccalaureate degree
- Complete an online application with the following:
 - $50 application fee
 - Graduate application essay
 - Writing sample (>2,500 words) related to genocide/mass atrocity studies
 - Three letters of recommendation
 - Resume
 - Official transcripts from all colleges/universities attended (incl. Stockton)