

Bio:

Lee Ann Guenther, PT, DPT, MS has been a NJ licensed physical therapist since earning an entry-level degree from the University of Pennsylvania. She has practiced in a variety of clinical settings including acute rehabilitation, acute care, home care, skilled nursing facilities, and outpatient clinics. For more than a decade, her primary practice has been the provision of pediatric physical therapy services.

Dr. Guenther was on the faculty of the Physical Therapy Program at Stockton University from 1989 to June of 2022 when she was honored by earning "Professor Emerita" status. She taught entry level, post-professional and interprofessional ethics classes. Dr. Guenther also taught the New Jersey State Board of Physical Therapy Examiners approved "Ethics and Jurisprudence" or "Ethics" continuing education since the requirement was initiated in the 2008-2010 license cycle.

Dr. Guenther's research has involved interprofessional education, core values and ethical decision-making. She has presented her work at the Association of Schools of Allied Health's (ASAHP) National Conference, the international All Together Better Health Conference and APTA's Combined Sections Meeting (CSM). Her current work "Use of an interprofessional virtual ethics event to enhance equity in clinical practice" was accepted for a platform presentation at the ASAHP national conference in 10/2022. Dr. Guenther has published in the Journal of Allied Health Professions, the PT Journal, and the Journal of the HPA Section of the APTA.
