

New Manager Orientation (NMO)

What is NMO?

New Manager Orientation is a series of workshops focused on orienting new managers to the offices, people, tools, and resources that will help them succeed in their role of manager at Stockton University.

Who is NMO for?

NMO is intended for all managers new to the role at Stockton University.

What are the goals of NMO?

1. To orient new managers to the Stockton organizational structure including understanding the responsibilities of specific departments & divisions,
2. To connect them with specific Stockton tools, resources, and constituents, and
3. To help them to understand their role as managers around specific Stockton policies and procedures.

What is the format of NMO?

NMO is designed as six 2-hour in-person sessions that new managers will attend during their first six months in the job. NMO sessions are typically scheduled for the 2nd Wednesday of every month from 10am-12pm. During New Hire Orientation all new managers will receive a list of all NMO sessions scheduled for an entire calendar year. New managers will also receive an Outlook calendar invitation to each NMO session scheduled during their first six months.
