Galloway, NJ - The public is invited to a night of painting fun with Lily Doyle of Undercover Artist, at Stockton University's Kramer Hall on Thursday, July 16, part of Hammonton, NJ's monthly Third Thursday festivities.

Participants will be guided step by step in creating "Buona Festa"-themed paintings to celebrate the Our Lady of Mt. Carmel Society's Italian Feast, part of the oldest Italian festival in the United States and a Hammonton tradition since 1875.

The free public event will be held at Kramer Hall, Stockton's instructional site at 30 Front St., from at 6 -8 p.m. Supplies such as canvas, paint and brushes will be provided and light refreshments will be served.

Doyle, of Undercover Artist, is from Audubon, NJ. She has a Bachelor of Fine Arts degree, with a major in graphic design, art education certificate and minor in theater from Rowan University. More information is available at facebook.com/UndercoverArtist

"Paint, party and uncover your inner artist," says Doyle.
