Alumni will have the opportunity to have their diploma reprinted with their major for a small fee that will cover the administrative costs and membership into the Alumni Association. This fee is yet to be determined and more information will follow. He thanked Chairperson Ms. Emily Zeck, Vice President Mr. Nick Persia and the Academic Affairs committee for all of their hard work on this project. President Archut also mentioned that the Senate has attempted to make this happen for students on two other separate occasions and now this Senate is the one who can say they made it happen.

He also went on to say that on March 24th, 2016 he met with Dr. Kesselman and spoke to him about the idea of putting together a new program called, "The President's Hour", which is similar to a fireside chat. Governmental Affairs

President Archut yields the floor to Chair Sarhan for the Governmental Affairs report.

Chair Sarhan reports that the Republican Presidential Debate Viewing Party on February 25th at 8 pm in MR 1 was a success. She also thanked Dr. Gerald Martin for his presentation “Careers in Higher Education” on March 22nd and for providing a place for Stockton students to learn about careers in higher education and student affairs. Chair Sarhan reported that Thursday, March 31st, Senator Deon will be hosting the event “What do You Want to Be When You Grow Up” at 4:30 pm in the Board of Trustees. She explained that this event will focus on providing advice and guidance to students who are undecided by exposing them to professionals and educators who went through similar experiences in their undergraduate and professional careers. Food and ultra-credit will be available! Chair Sarhan also said that Senator Kim will be meeting with Daniel Tome from the Office of Service Learning to discuss the New York Times.

Chair Sarhan went on to say that Senator Ike is exploring an initiative to promote diversity on campus, as a way to unify campus efforts of equity and inclusion to be held during Welcome Week. Chair Sarhan said Senator Maurice is working on an initiative that would involve mock elections at Stockton to measure which presidential candidate Stockton students would vote for. This will be held on April 20th in the Campus Center Food Court from 9 am to 3 pm. Chair Sarhan also encouraged students to come out to vote in Stockton’s mock elections. Chair Sarhan also reported that the Student Senate accountability submissions for review from Nick failed in committee. Her committee members felt that this system was unnecessary because they do not believe an accountability system is needed, and said that they would prefer to work on initiatives of the senate and working for the students rather than policing themselves. She also noted that enforcement of the forms would be difficult, as it would be difficult to deduce from the forms who should or shouldn’t be removed from the senate and that no forms were created for accountability of the President or Vice President. Chair Sarhan thanked her committee for their hard work and dedication.

Chair Sarhan yields her time back to President Archut.

Re: Approval of Student Organization Budgets for FY 2017

Date: April 22, 2016

I am in receipt of the proposed student organization budgets for fiscal year 2017, which were approved by a vote of 22-0-1 at the full Student Senate meeting of March 29, 2016. After careful review of the proposed allocations for all 90 organizations receiving a budget, I approve your proposal as submitted.

Please know I appreciate the hard work of the Student Senate and especially the Finance Committee regarding the student organization budgeting process. The funding of student organizations is central to having a vibrant campus life and the Student Senate's role in properly allocating funds is immensely important.

Your advisors have informed me that budget requests were significantly higher than the available funding and that tough decisions were made over many hours of meetings. What is particularly impressive is that you all came together in a unanimous vote to approve the proposed allocations. For that the entire Student Senate is to be commended.

In closing, please accept my thanks for your hard work, dedication and collaborative action throughout this process. I wish all clubs and organizations well as we close one year, and look forward to the next.
