

MASTER OF SCIENCE IN COMMUNICATION DISORDERS

Program Highlights

- Designed to prepare students as speech-language pathologists eligible for certification by the American Speech-Language Hearing Association (ASHA)
- 63-credit program that includes core courses and a minimum of 400 supervised clinical hours
- Accredited by the Council on Academic Accreditation
- Hispanic Emphasis Specialization (MSCD-HES) available for Spanish-English bilingual graduate students
- On-campus speech and hearing clinic

Admissions Criteria

- Baccalaureate degree
- Successful completion of prerequisite courses
- Complete a CSDCAS Application with the following:
 - Official transcripts from all colleges/universities attended (including Stockton)
 - Three letters of recommendation
 - Graduate application essay
 - MSCD-HES applicants must upload MSCD-HES Supplemental Questions
 - Resume

