GALLOWAY TWP., NJ – The Richard Stockton College of New Jersey has named the awardees of six Berkman-Chipkin Scholarships, established to honor the memory of Sarah and Michael Chipkin and Joseph Berkman, victims of the Nazis during World War II and the Holocaust.

Stockton is home of the nation's first Master's program in Holocaust and Genocide Studies, a program that is attracting students from throughout the country. The students who were selected for these scholarships are all enrolled in this program.

Stockton integrates Holocaust and Genocide Studies into its undergraduate curriculum, and provides teacher training in Holocaust and Genocide Education each year through its Holocaust Resource Center.

The scholarships honor Joseph Berkman who was murdered by the Nazis in 1942 in the "Killing Fields of Ponary", in Lithuania. The late Sarah and Michael Chipkin were Holocaust Survivors. They immigrated to the United States following the war and established a successful business.

The Berkman-Chipkin Scholarships for 2007-2008 were awarded to outstanding graduate students who plan to or are currently pursuing teaching careers.

The recipients include Patricia Chiappine of Hammonton, NJ; Jessica Hickman of Gloucester, NJ; Renee Meshach of Phillipsburg, NJ; Erica Psaltis of Olympia, Washington; Andrea Szkil of Ellicott City, Maryland and Trinity Rufus of Bellefontaine, Ohio.
