Galloway, NJ – Stockton's Manahawkin Instructional Site will participate in the university's 12th annual Martin Luther King Day of Service by providing free electronic assistance and other activities on Monday, Jan. 18. Nearly 1,000 volunteers turned out for the 2015 event, and organizers want to break that record with a call to "Take a Day ON!"

Manahawkin Day of Service activities will be held at the instructional site, located at 712 E. Bay Ave., Manahawkin, N.J. Registration, breakfast and project selection begins at 8 a.m.

Electronic assistance will be held in 30-minute sessions from 9:30 a.m. – 1 p.m. and should be scheduled in advance by calling 609-626-3883. Participants may bring their own personal electronic devices, and also join Stockton students, faculty, staff and alumni on a one-day volunteer project to benefit the community.

Volunteer activities include assembling necessity bags for homeless support organizations, card making for hospitalized children and seniors, and compiling activity books for children. Donations are still being accepted for the necessity bags, which will include items such as socks, gloves, a toothbrush and toothpaste.

Activities will also be held at the Galloway main campus and at the university's instructional sites in Hammonton and Woodbine, with some activities then moving to other sites.

Participants are encouraged to use the hashtag #StocktonMLK when posting about the experience on Twitter and Facebook.

Volunteers can register that day – but pre-registration is preferred. For more information, to pre-register, visit Stockton.edu/MLKday or call the Manahawkin Instructional Site at 609-626-3883.
