Galloway, NJ - The Stockton Center on Successful Aging is sponsoring a free storytelling workshop for older adults focusing on the imagination to reconnect memories.

“Let Your Imagination Soar—Start Telling Stories” will be held at Woodview Estates Assisted Living, located at 5030 Unami Blvd. in Mays Landing, N.J. on Wednesday July 6, 2016 from 1–3 p.m. The event begins with a complimentary luncheon.

TimeSlips is an innovative storytelling intervention that replaces the pressure to remember with the freedom to imagine, opening storytelling to everyone. Christine Ferri, SCOSA Education chair, will help participants discover the science and practical impact of this powerful tool that uses visual cues to tell stories. Used by families and health care professionals, TimeSlips provides everyone with an opportunity to engage in storytelling in a joyful and fun way. When memory loss separates us from people we love, the emotional, symbolic language of the imagination can bring us back together.

Call 609-625-4878 or email residentservices@woodviewstates.com for directions and to register for this free workshop.

Visit the SCOSA website at Stockton.edu/scosa for more information, updates and cancellation procedures.
